A modern office interior featuring a large, curved wall and ceiling system made of perforated metal panels. The panels are arranged in a grid and feature a complex, white, abstract pattern that resembles a city map or a network of lines. The wall is illuminated from above, creating a soft glow. In the foreground, a dark wood reception desk is visible, with a man sitting behind it. To the left, there are shelves with books and a potted plant. To the right, a framed photograph of a city skyline is mounted on the wall.

The background of the entire page is a grayscale halftone map of a city street grid. The map is composed of numerous small dots of varying density, creating a grid-like pattern that represents the layout of streets and building footprints. In the center of the map, there is a solid dark gray circle. Inside this circle, the text "GFFdesign" is written in a white, sans-serif font. The text is positioned slightly to the right of the center of the circle.
